

Adrian Daurov, cellist, born in St.Petersburg, Russia, studied at the St.Petersburg Conservatory with Anatoly Nikitin. He was involved in various chamber music ensembles and projects and appeared as a soloist on the main concert stages of St.Petersburg, Moscow, as well as in Europe and the U.S. He made his debut with the orchestra in 1997 with the St.Petersburg Symphony Orchestra. Adrian was awarded with 1st prizes at the international music competitions in Dobrich, Bulgaria (1996), Peter De Grote, Groningen, The Netherlands (2001) and the LISMA Foundation Competition in NY (2006). In 2004 he toured Germany as a soloist with the St.Petersburg Chamber Orchestra and was appointed the Principal Cellist of the Bayreuth Festival Youth Orchestra under conductor Peter Gulke. He currently studies with David Soyer at Juilliard School of Music and performs chamber music with such distinguished artists as Mark Peskanov, Gerald Robbins, Olga Vinokur and others. Adrian is a member of Voxare Quartet. In June 2007, Mr. Daurov was appointed the Principal Cellist of The Chamber Orchestra of New York under conductor Salvatore Di Vittorio. He recently performed the World Premiere of Behzad Ranjbaran's "Fountains Of Fin" for Flute, Violin and Cello at the Bargemusic in New York.